

READERS' CHOICE: FAVORITE FURNITURE SHOWROOM

DC's purveyors of smart looks for your home know how to blend timeless with contemporary.

INNO-VATION! Georgetown's M2L offers lovely couches from Scandinavian line Inno.

- 1. MITCHELL GOLD + BOB WILLIAMS The dynamic duo of design opened a colossus at Tysons Galleria this year, providing patrons with more chic per square foot than ever before. 2001 International Drive, Tysons Corner, Va., 703.962.9310, mgbwhome.com/tysons
- 2. ROOM & BOARD The Logan Circle space boasts modern looks (we crave the Berlin leather sofa, $3,339) and holds special design events that keep the good-design faithful more than happy. 1840 14th St. NW, 202.729.8300, roomandboard.com
- 3. M2L European collections remain impressive at this hip showroom, especially those from Scandinavia like Inno. 1010 Wisconsin Ave. NW, 202.298.8010, m2l.com
- 4. ROCHE BOBOIS The Georgetown emporium of epic design continues to showcase exciting lines, including the Mah Jong modular sofa system created by Hans Hopfer. 5301 Wisconsin Ave. NW, 202.686.5667, roche-bobois.com
- 5. MAXALTO Antonio Citterio-designed sofas are the reason Italian design is still the gold standard—his Solo collection is a winter favorite. 3320 M St. NW, 202.337.7700, bebitalia.com

So Bright

When it comes to modern chic, Lori Graham is well versed in what will make a room absolutely sing. With her eponymous shop on trendy 14th Street, Graham has managed to share her impeccable interior-design vision with a new wave of homeowners in the corridor of cool. This winter, those shoppers will crave the Harlow chandelier, with black steel, brass and copper detailing with hand-blown glass in white and smoked black. It's simple, elegant and Graham sanctioned. $13,850, 1412 14th St. NW, 202.745.0118, lorigraham.com

SEE THE LIGHT! The Harlow chandelier, at Lori Graham.

Glowing Praise Tricia Huntley doesn't like to do anything twice. With clients ranging from young professionals to empty nesters, the DC designer brainstorms custom interiors to suit each mood. One of her designs, however, is going into rotation—a sconce inspired by her own antique oil lamps. When she asked The Urban Electric Co. to modernize it for a client, they liked it so much that the Huntley Sconce is now in the catalog. "Because I reinvent the wheel every time I do a project, it's nice to have this light fixture where I've already done the work," she says. Maybe twice is nice. Huntley Sconce, $1,795, urbanelectricco.com, huntleyandcompany.com

BEST OF THE CITY

DESIGN